

REPORT to the GOVERNOR

2001

Arizona Commission on the Arts

Letter from the Chair

To the Honorable Jane Dee Hull Governor of the State of Arizona

Dear Governor Hull:

In accordance with the requirements of the act which established the Arizona Commission on the Arts (A.R.S. 41-981), I am pleased to submit to you and the citizens of Arizona, the summary report of the Commission for the 2001 fiscal year.

The financial portion of this report reflects the 636 Community Services Projects supported by the Commission, listed by city and county. The projects and organizations utilizing these matching grants benefited 8,458,347 audience members, participants or artists sharing their work (a 20-percent increase). Contributions from local sources were $92,975,566 or an increase of $11,277,327 (12.2-percent).

Grant panels of qualified individuals from throughout Arizona reviewed applications. Panel recommendations for funding were presented to the Commission, who made the final decisions on the allocation of these funds. We are also please to submit a brief summary of the Commission's development and current programs.

This year, we highlight the program ARTability: Accessing Arizona's Arts. ARTability is a consortium of arts organizations and organizations serving disabled communities, working together to make Arizona's arts accessible to all. ARTability provides training and information about accessibility issues and accessible programming, including cultural awareness, physical accessibility and serving patrons through audio-described and American Sign Language (ASL) interpreted programs.

We are guided by the fifteen Governor-appointed Commission members and community leaders, educators and arts professionals who have taken part in the Commission's planning process. With their advice we are working toward achieving the goals and objectives outlined in our plan, Linking Up: Strategic Connections for the Arts in Arizona: 2000-2006.

We were pleased with the results of the Auditor General's Sunset Audit and look forward to being reauthorized for another 10 years.

Yours respectfully,

Jane Jozoff

Agency Overview

Vision Statement

An Arizona where all citizens experience the arts as integral to their lives.

Mission Statement

To enhance the artistic development of all Arizona communities, arts organizations and artists through innovative partnerships and stewardship of public funds.

Goals

- All people in Arizona have access to diverse arts experiences.
- Artistic and management skills of artists and arts organizations are strengthened.
- The essential role of the arts in teaching and learning, particularly in K-12, is accomplished.
- Access to arts information is provided through both “high-tech” and “high-touch” services.
- Public policy is favorable towards Arizona’s arts industry.
- Stable financial resources to implement the plan exist.

History

Following the formation of the National Endowment for the Arts in 1965, funding was made available to all state governments to form a state arts commission and to conduct a survey of all existing facilities, organizations and individuals engaged in the arts. The Arizona Commission on the Arts and Humanities was established as a state council by executive order of Governor Samuel P. Goddard on January 24, 1966. S.B. 139, establishing the Arizona Commission on the Arts and Humanities as a permanent state agency, was passed by the 28th Arizona Legislature and signed by Governor Jack Williams on March 13, 1967.

Thus, the Arts Commission became the official agency of the State of Arizona “to stimulate and encourage public interest in the cultural resources, through the study and presentation of the performing arts and fine arts, to ensure that their role in the life of our communities will continue to grow and will play an even more significant part in the welfare and educational experience of our citizens.” In 1982, Governor Bruce Babbitt signed enabling legislation continuing the agency to July 1, 1992, and officially changing its name to the Arizona Commission on the Arts. Again in 1992, the agency was reinstated as an agency until 2002 by the Legislature and Governor Fife Symington. In 2001, the agency underwent a nine-month Sunset Audit through the Auditor General’s office. A bill reauthorizing the agency until 2102 will be acted on by the Legislature in 2002.

General Information

The Arizona Commission on the Arts receives and disburses funds from the State of Arizona and the National Endowment for the Arts. These federal and state dollars are catalytic to private funding; they strengthen the partnerships between the public and private sectors in support of the arts. A governing board of fifteen Commission members, appointed by the Governor of Arizona, awards grants and formulates policy consistent with the enabling legislation. Commission members serve terms of three years and are chosen for their demonstrated ability, good judgement and experience in arts-related fields. In addition, they are selected to ensure the geographic and ethnic representation of all areas of the state.

Arts Standards.
The State Board of Education adopted Arts Standards with the expectation that students demonstrate competency in music, visual art, dance and theater by eighth grade and proficiency in one art form by graduation.

The Commission provides project grants and administrative grants to organizations and schools. Project and administrative grants support arts activities in urban centers and rural communities, preserve the rich traditions of Arizona's ethnic communities, encourage participation in the arts by people with disabilities and by citizens of all ages, and support strengthened professional artistic and administrative skills of Arizona's arts organizations. In addition, the Arts Commission provides assistance to individual artists through artist fellowships and artist projects grants; artist residency opportunities in schools, communities and after-school programs; the Traveling Exhibitions Program; International Arts Exchange; and other professional development opportunities and professional resources. In addition to these grants, the Commission provides tools including convening/facilitating, staff/professional assistance, research, technology and information and referral to arts and community organizations, schools and artists.

All grants and awards from the Arts Commission are made in accordance with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Age Discrimination Act of 1975, and Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972.

The Commission's History

1972

Three Arizona artists began work serving one school district in the Commission's Artists in Education program. Today the Artists in Residence (Arts Education) and other education programs provide work for more than 200 artists at 1,500 schools. Many of the artists who worked in the early years of the program are among Arizona's successful practicing artists and their former students are among today's arts audiences; some have followed their mentors and become artists.

1974

The Commission's Expansion Arts program, serving Arizona's ethnic populations, was the first state program of its kind in the country. The program encourages the presentation and preservation of Arizona's rich ethnic traditions.

1976

The Commission initiated the Art in Arizona Towns program in response to interest from Arizona towns for quality performing arts events in their communities. Performing artists visit a community for three to six days, giving performances and workshops.

The Ticket Discount program was introduced in partnership with social service organizations to help handicapped and elderly citizens attend performing arts events (program active for 15 years).

The National Endowment for the Arts awarded a Challenge Grant of $480,000 to the Arts Commission for distribution among eight major cultural institutions. This special three-year grant required the institutions to match each federal dollar with at least three dollars of new and increased giving. The institutions actually matched the grant with seven dollars of private donations to one federal dollar. This same year general operating support grants were awarded to large institutions. The Challenge Grant and Basic Aid demonstrate the commitment of the Arts Commission to contributing to the continued artistic development of our statewide cultural treasures.

The Artists Fellowship program began awarding fellowships in the visual arts, the performing arts and creative writing. The program underscores one of the Commission's primary goals: recognition and support for Arizona's artists. Fellowship awards provide individual artists the opportunity for research and development.

The Art in Public Places program was triggered when Governor Bruce Babbitt commissioned works of art by Arizona artists for two new buildings in the Capitol Mall. Following this, the Commission designed and implemented an Art in Public Places program that assists local communities in selecting, commissioning and funding art for public spaces.

Initiated with the support of a National Endowment for the Arts fellowship grant to Executive Director Louise Tester, the Commission began a pilot project of cultural exchange with Mexico. This full-scale program, called the International Exchange program (International Arts Exchange), provides assistance for Arizona artists to tour Mexico and other countries and for international artists to tour Arizona.

The first Governor's Arts Awards program took place. Awards were given by Governor Bruce Babbitt to recognize excellence in individual and corporate support to the arts. The Governor's Arts Awards program continues as a joint project of the Governor's Office, Arizonans for Cultural Development and the Arizona Commission on the Arts.

The Organization Development Program (ODP) was designed as a specialized training program to give technical assistance to the boards of directors and staffs of Arizona's developing arts organizations. Today the program provides funding and technical support to more than 130 Arizona arts organizations which produce ongoing public programs.

The Design program was initiated to give technical assistance to communities and nonprofit organizations in graphic design and the planning of cultural facilities: performing arts centers, galleries, museums, cultural parks and artists' spaces.

1982

As a result of a positive performance review conducted of state agencies by the Arizona Auditor General's office, Governor Bruce Babbitt signed enabling legislation continuing the agency to July 1, 1992, and officially changing its name to Arizona Commission on the Arts.

1984

Arizona became an affiliate of Meet the Composer, Inc., the national service organization which promotes the music of living American composers, encourages the commissioning of new music and develops audiences for the music of our time.

1987

The Arts Commission celebrated its twentieth anniversary with the completion of a major research project resulting in a statewide arts plan, Arizona: The Arts in Partnership, 1987 - 1990. The plan gave visibility to Arizona's model arts programs and showed how the arts could serve as partners with other sectors in promoting Arizona's artistic resources.

1988

The Arizona Commission on the Arts joined six other state arts agencies in a national consortium that was awarded a three-year Challenge Grant from the National Endowment for the Arts to support individual artists.

The Local Arts Agencies project began to assist developing local arts agencies with program planning and with administrative and organizational skills. The project increases awareness and accessibility of the arts in each participating community.

The Arts Commission, cooperatively with the Arizona Department of Education, completed the First Statewide Survey on the Status of Arts Education in Arizona Public Schools, 1988. Subsequently, a retreat held to assess the survey information was attended by educators, arts administrators and community leaders who issued a consensus statement, The Oak Creek Accord, a five-year plan for the future growth and direction of arts education in Arizona.

Artist Projects support individual artists in all disciplines for specific projects. The program responds to artists' ideas, dreams and needs. Especially encouraged are collaborations and interdisciplinary projects.

The Arizona Arts Trust Fund, established by the State Legislature by adding fifteen dollars to the annual corporate filing fee, increased general operating support for arts organizations. Participating organizations must document a plan to include representatives of racial and ethnic minorities on their boards.

Education projects (Arts Education) assist schools and arts education organizations with projects that help make the arts basic to education. Strong emphasis is placed on collaborations among arts disciplines and use of community resources in the arts.

Anti-Drug A.P.P.L.E. Corps, a partnership between Artists, Private enterprise, Prosecutors, Law enforcement and Educators places artists in after school programs to help our youth, family and community to reject drugs. The program is supported with RICO funds from the Maricopa County Attorney's Office.

Arizona Arts Congress, in conjunction with Arizonans for Cultural Development and Arizona Alliance for Arts Education, brought over 300 people to the Arizona Capitol to hear legislators speak about the arts and to attend a luncheon with their legislators.

Arizona Dance on Tour increases the audiences for quality dance presentations. National touring artists present concerts and residencies with local dance companies and communities.

Tribal Museum program (Tribal Museum Assessment) provides technical assistance to established and emerging tribal museums and cultural centers. Over twenty-five tribes were surveyed in Arizona to identify needs of tribal museums and their communities. Technical assistance includes on-site consultants and salary assistance.

Rural Assistance program provided technical assistance to rural sponsors for exhibition development. A series of workshops were held in Bisbee, Flagstaff, Globe and Sacaton. Topics included audience development, education programs, care and preservation of artwork, working with historic buildings and developing exhibition seasons (program active for two years).

The Arts Commission joined the Arizona Department of Education and the fine arts departments of the three state universities in a collaborative effort to make the arts a part of basic education. The results of this joint effort were a Directory of Arizona Exemplary Fine Arts Sites, K - 8, Arizona Arts Education Research Institute and Artist/Teacher Institutes.

Arizona Save Outdoor Sculpture! is part of a national campaign to locate and inventory publicly accessible outdoor sculpture and increase public awareness of the value of outdoor sculpture and the need to care for it. Arizona SOS! joins 35 other states in the effort sponsored by the National Institute for the Conservation of Cultural Property and the National Museum of American Art, Smithsonian Institution (program active for two years).

Collaborative Initiatives program focused on collaborative artistic projects that help organizations involve and reach new communities. Priority goes to projects that show a sincere sharing of talents and specific efforts to understand different cultures. Funded by the National Endowment for the Arts (program active for one year).

Arizona Arts Education Research Institute (AAERI) funds research studies which examine programs in the arts to determine their impact on learning. The program involves the Arts Commission, the Arizona Department of Education and the fine arts colleges of the three state universities.

Border Arts project supported arts programs reflective of the cultural heritage of the people in the border counties of Yuma, Santa Cruz and Cochise (program active for two years).

Tumblewords: Writers Rolling Around the West places Arizona poets and writers in underserved communities for outreach activities and public community readings. Supported through Western States Arts Federation.

Arts Education Through Distance Learning allowed two teams to conduct distance learning experiments using communications technology with K-12 arts curricula. At the University of Arizona, music and visual art lessons were designed. At Arizona State University, dance and drama were the focus.

1996

The Arizona Arts Endowment Fund (Arizona ArtShare), a public/private partnership, was created by the Arizona Legislature and Governor Fife Symington. This long-term funding mechanism will, through income from permanent endowment funds, support the stabilization efforts of Arizona arts organizations, and arts education.

1997

Arts Standards. The State Board of Education adopted Arts Standards with the expectation that students demonstrate competency in music, visual art, dance and theater by eighth grade and proficiency in one art form by graduation. The Commission works with the Department of Education and the Arizona Alliance for Arts Education to develop strategies to help local schools make the arts an integral part of the curriculum.

1998

Arizona ArtsPlace. The Arizona Commission on the Arts entered into a unique collaboration with the Phoenix Arts Commission, Business Volunteers for the Arts, the Tucson-Pima Arts Council, Arizona State University, and the Western States Arts Federation (WESTAF). This collaboration provides grants, technical assistance, hardware/software, and training to Arizona's non-profit arts organizations to develop and maximize their online capabilities.

School To Work was a federally funded program, designed to bring businesses and schools together to create meaningful work experiences for students. The Arizona Commission on the Arts became the fiscal agent for a unique Arts and Humanities Partnership to introduce students to the wide variety of careers available in the arts (program active for three years).

ARTability: Accessing Arizona's Arts is a consortium of 30 plus organizations who combined resources to hire a full-time Accessibility Coordinator to provide technical advice to arts and cultural organizations wishing to develop accessible programs and spaces; distribute information regarding accessible arts programs and facilities to the disability community; organize, promote and coordinate Audio Description, American Sign Language interpretation, and other accessibility services; promote Universal Design in architecture; provide information on accessibility-related issues; and promote community awareness of disability-related issues.

Artist/Teacher Institutes supports two or three-day professional development institutes for teachers and administrators on-site in rural school districts throughout Arizona. The Institutes are presented by Arizona Commission on the Arts staff and a group of teaching artists, and are designed to help teachers in rural schools gain additional understanding and skills to teach using the arts and to implement the Arizona arts standards.

Arts and Culture Build Communities is a public/private partnership with the Arizona Community Foundation, the Arizona Humanities Council and the Arizona Department of Commerce, to support planning and implementation of projects with ethnic or rural arts/cultural or heritage organizations that support a community's cultural resources through economic and tourism development strategies.

ArtistsRegister.com/Arizona is a statewide online register of Arizona's visual artists which eliminates multiple slide submissions for artists and provides easy-to-access notices of public art projects and competitions. The online register is designed to connect people interested in visual arts with Arizona artists and their work. ArtistsRegister.com/Arizona is a collaborative project with the Chandler Arts Commission, City of Glendale, City of Yuma, Greater Oro Valley Arts Council, Phoenix Arts Commission, Scottsdale Cultural Council, Tempe Cultural Services, Tucson/Pima Arts Council and the Western States Arts Federation.

The agency participated in a nine-month sunset audit by the Auditor General. Legislation has been introduced in the 2002 session to reauthorize the agency for 10 years.

Arizona has also been selected as one of 13 states to participate in a national research project funded by the Wallace-Reader's Digest Funds to explore new strategies to build public participation in the arts. The Understanding Participation project (UP) is designed as a learning opportunity between the state arts agency, consultants in the areas of arts participation, and Arizona's arts organizations, communities and artists. The project brings together national research and technical assistance combined with local research and experiments to result in broadening, deepening and diversifying participation in the arts.

The Arizona Commission on the Arts participates in the programs of the Western States Arts Federation. Focused services include fee support to presenters of the performing arts, the WESTAF Book Awards and Tumblewords for writers, technical assistance and consultant services, and promotion of the arts in and of the Western United States, including online registers for visual, performing and literary artists.

The Arizona Commission on the Arts is also a member of the National Assembly of State Arts Agencies, Americans for the Arts and The Association of American Cultures.

In its first year of existence, the Commission sponsored 32 events, serving a small arts constituency. Since that time the migration to the Southwest has multiplied several times the population of Arizona, increasing the demand for the arts. Criss-crossing the state are hundreds of arts and community organizations, dedicated to making their communities better places in which to live, work and play. The organizations receiving Commission support reach or touch more than eight million people annually.

The commitment to continued cultural development in Arizona is a challenge shared by arts organizations, artists, audiences and the Arizona Commission on the Arts.

Anti-Drug A.P.P.L.E. Corps, a partnership between Artists, Private enterprise, Prosecutors, Law enforcement and Educators places artists in after school programs to help our youth, family and community to reject drugs.

Program Areas

The Commission serves not just as a funder, but as a source for information, assistance and connection throughout the state. Professional program and administrative staff provide specialized expertise in artistic and educational discipline areas, and work with consultants and other service providers to respond to the growing and changing needs of Arizona's nonprofit arts industry. Here is a general overview of the program areas the Commission currently focuses on:

Design

Offers technical services to communities and nonprofit organizations on graphic design and cultural facility planning—performing arts centers, galleries, museums, cultural parks or artists' spaces. Assistance is available during all stages of facility development: garnering citizens' comments, hiring consultants, preparation of grant applications for feasibility studies and pre-architectural planning.

Art in Public Places assists cities, counties and local nonprofit agencies commission works of art for permanent installation in places of public access.

Education

Coordinates Arts Education with multiple components. Arts Education projects assist practicing artists in all arts disciplines with residencies in schools, libraries, museums and other community settings. The residencies reinforce the value of the arts as a part of basic education and provide students and teachers the opportunity to explore the arts and participate in hands-on creative experiences with artists. Arts Education projects also encourage the development of professional arts education organizations and program initiatives by local school districts. In collaboration with the Department of Education and the fine arts colleges of the three universities, the Arizona Arts Education Research Institute (AAERI) supports research in arts education, and teacher/researcher collaborations in arts education research. Anti-Drug A.P.P.L.E. Corps is a partnership between Artists, Private enterprise, Prosecutors, Law enforcement and Educators, placing artists in after-school programs to help our youth, family and community reject drugs.

Expansion Arts

Encourages the growth and preservation of Arizona's many ethnic traditions. Assists community-based arts projects in performing and visual arts, expanding the involvement of all citizens. The Tribal Museum Assessment program provides technical assistance to established and emerging tribal museums and cultural centers. The International Arts Exchange promotes exchanges primarily between Arizona and Mexico and serves as a resource to organizations on both sides of the border, and also supports projects with other countries.

General Operating Support

Aids small, mid-sized and large organizations in strengthening their artistic and administrative skills, and their ability to provide ongoing public programming. This Organization Development Program combines salary assistance for professional managers, support for artistic and administrative expenses, and training/professional development for staff and board members. The program is divided into four levels, depending upon the size of the organization's operating budget and the type of support needed. Stabilization Training, supported by Arizona ArtShare, provides two- to three-year tailored, in-depth consultancies focusing on financial stabilization and governance to up to three organizations annually.

Literature

Assists poets and writers in a diversity of contemporary literature projects—residencies, workshops, readings, assistance to small presses and literary magazines. Tumblewords: Writers Rolling Around the West places Arizona poets and writers in underserved communities for outreach activities and public readings. Fellowships in creative writing are awarded annually; matching funds are provided by the Bill Desmond Fund at the Arizona Community Foundation.

Local Arts Agencies

Assists developing local arts agencies (arts councils and commissions) with cultural program planning and with administrative and organizational skills. Local arts agencies participating in the project must be nonprofit organizations designated to operate on behalf of a local government, or an operating unit of a city or county government. Alliances formed during the cultural planning process between arts organizations, city governments, chambers of commerce, educators and community members are strengthened so that local arts agencies become significant cultural resources in their communities.

Performing Arts

Supports music, theater and dance activities, offering technical assistance and project support to performing arts organizations and artists. Meet the Composer/Arizona program promotes the music of living American composers and encourages the performance and commissioning of new music. Arizona Dance on Tour brings national dance companies to present concerts and residencies with local dance companies and communities. Performing Arts Fellowships are awarded annually.

Presenting

Assists programs of multidisciplinary presenters with community arts planning and support of professional artists' fees for festivals; residencies; or performance, literary or exhibition series. Assistance is given to artists with touring techniques, residency services and management.

Traveling Exhibitions

Traveling Exhibitions are offered to rural communities without access to museums and to urban centers to complement the state's museums.

Visual Arts

Supports visual arts activities, offering technical assistance and project support to museums, visual arts organizations and artists. Serves the visual arts in rural communities and urban neighborhoods. ArtistsRegister.com/Arizona is an online slide bank available for use by arts organizations, galleries, corporations and the general public seeking to locate professional artists. Fellowships in Visual Arts are awarded annually.

Information and Referral

Provides information and technical services in the business of the arts. The Arts Resource Center, a specialized non-circulating library, contains information not otherwise available to Arizona arts organizations, communities and artists. The Center maintains up-to-date publications on copyright, taxes, legal issues, health hazards in the arts, arts participation, fundraising, management, marketing, publicity, board development and cultural facility planning. Speakers are available to arts organizations and artist groups. Publications include the monthly Bulletin, Arizona Arts Roster, Traveling Exhibitions Roster, Artists Guide to Programs and Guide to Grants: Organizations and Schools; and the Commission maintains an extensive website with links to other sites and resources.

Convening/Facilitating

The Commission can serve as a catalyst and facilitator in bringing members of a community together around issues and opportunities in the arts and arts education. Whether through the annual statewide Southwest Arts Conference (SWAC) for over 250 artswriters, or small roundtable discussions in community centers or school board rooms, Commission staff serve as a guide in the sharing of ideas and information.

Research

Artists and arts organizations require accurate and current information in order to make the best decisions. The Commission gathers current research and statistics in a broad range of areas from cultural tourism to economic impact studies to the impact of arts education on student learning. Utilizing our website more and more as a connector, the Commission shares this local, regional and national research with the community.

Through the Commission's Understanding Participation project (UP), Arizona's partnership with the Wallace-Reader's Digest Funds, over the next five years the arts community will research and learn together about what motivates people to participate in the arts.

Technology

Access to information and services "24/7" is vital to today's business pace. Through increased investment of resources in our website, the agency provides this to its constituents. Opportunities, information, resources and funding possibilities are among the components the Commission posts or links to, as well as enhanced versions of our print publications such as the Guide to Grants: Organizations and Schools and Arizona Arts Roster.

Technological links must go both ways, so the Commission partners with other agencies including the Phoenix Arts Commission and Business Volunteers for the Arts in Arizona ArtsPlace, providing funding and planning assistance to arts organizations to maximize their online capabilities.

Professional Staff Assistance

Program staff with strong experience in their particular fields provide the non-profit arts industry with technical assistance in areas such as organizational development, community participation-building, grants preparation, public relations/marketing and other administrative and artistic functions. Their statewide perspective also allows them to be valuable referrals, connecting one organization or artist or school with another in the state (or outside the state) that can be a valuable resource or peer. A juried roster of peer consultants offer consultancies at low or no cost to small and mid-sized arts organizations in many areas including accessibility, fundraising, facility planning, board development and strategic planning.

Highlighted Program

ARTability - Accessing Arizona's Arts

In 1998, Arizona's arts organizations were struggling in their attempts to involve audience members and artists with disabilities. American Sign Language-interpreted and audio-described programs were occasionally offered but attracted only small numbers of deaf or blind audience members; information on the needs of audience members with disabilities was not consistent throughout arts organizations; and members of the public with disabilities had no consistent way of learning about accessible arts events.

A key leader in accessible programming was Arizona Theatre Company, which had made connecting to people with disabilities a priority by focusing on introducing audio description to Arizona. They received a National Endowment for the Arts grant to initiate these services, and to share the describers and equipment with other arts organizations. Arts for All/Third St. Kids partnered on this outreach. Quickly realizing the statewide value of a coordinated program, ATC, the Arizona Commission on the Arts and other arts organizations which had provided leadership in accessible programming convened community meetings in Tucson and Phoenix. These conversations overwhelmingly affirmed the need for a quality-driven community-wide program to focus on making arts events accessible and enriching experiences for all members of the community, regardless of disability. With estimates of 289,000 Arizonans with disabilities, and 640 arts organizations, the need was obvious.

ARTability was created as this statewide program in 1999. The Commission provided a general operating support of $6,000, and more than 25 other arts and disability organizations joined as partners, committing funding and/or in-kind services. Founding partners committed to participate for an initial three-year period, recognizing that the building of relationships between the arts organizations and disability community was a long-term effort. A full-time coordinator was hired. With a background in theatre and business administration, Cindy Brown brought a unique combination of skills, as well as her personal experience as an artist who developed a disability after establishing her career. A Steering Committee representing the arts and disability communities was formed.

ARTability and its coordinator jumped into action immediately, providing a wide range of services and information. Initial activities included developing a quarterly newsletter with ARTability information and calendars of accessible arts events in Phoenix and Tucson; providing training to "front of house" individuals (box office representatives, docents and ushers who interact with patrons) on disability issues and sensitivity; attracting new consortium members and identifying additional funding sources; and speaking at a wide variety of community events.

ARTability's reputation quickly grew, and in its second year of operation its coordinator became a regular guest on KXCI Radio and Sun Sounds Radio as well as making guest appearances on KTAR Radio; was requested as a guest speaker, committee member and grants panelist both in- and out-of-state; and increased the amount and type of technical assistance available. Brown has advised facilities on issues of accessible design, including the Herberger Theater Center, Orpheum Theatre, and the in-design-phase Mesa Arts Center and Tempe Performing Arts Center. More than 1,000 ushers, docents, volunteers and staff receive training each year, and ARTability Summits now take place twice a year, providing panel presentations and workshops on issues such as use of TT machines for deaf and speech-impaired callers, box office and facility seating issues for patrons with l

What is ARTability?

ARTability acts as a bridge between arts organizations and the disability community by:

- Acting as a resource to arts and cultural organizations
- Promoting accessible arts events to the disability community
- Promoting arts-related accessibility services
- Furthering a sense of community
- Making a variety of arts experiences available and accessible to all limited mobility or who use wheelchairs or guide animals, and ARTability has become known as a connection for artists with disabilities, who often feel isolated from each other. The Arizona Commission on the Arts received the National Assembly of State Arts Agencies' 2000 National Innovation Award on behalf of ARTability, and ARTability was awarded a very competitive National Endowment for the Arts grant for expanding its services and programs.

ARTability is the only statewide program of its kind in the country. Since its inception, ARTability has built its consortium to more than 40 partners, all of whom provide cash or substantial in-kind support; has attracted a pool of committed and talented volunteers; has grown its mailing list from 0 to more than 2,500; has developed a website with calendars of accessible events and consortium-member links; has garnered media coverage in, among others, the Arizona Republic, The Business Journal, New Times, Phoenix Magazine, The Tribune Newspapers, BackStage, Channel 15 (Phoenix) and KTAR (Phoenix). Outreach has expanded beyond its initial service areas of Tucson and Phoenix to Prescott, Wickenburg and Flagstaff.

Arts organizations adding accommodations with ARTability's technical assistance and promotion include Prescott Fine Arts Association, Arizona Arts Chorale, Sharlot Hall Museum, East Valley Children's Theater, Arizona Jewish Theatre Company, Phoenix Theatre and Cookie Company, Valley Youth Theatre, Theatre Works and UApresents. The Herberger Theater Center "Ambassador Usher" program, a cadre of ushers participating in ongoing disability training, is now expanding to serve other downtown Phoenix venues.

Nearing completion of its third year of existence, ARTability is preparing to enter its next phase, re-assessing its program priorities through dialogue with both the arts and disability communities. The potential for increasing access to all Arizonans is just beginning to be tapped. ARTability serves as an example of the power of combined resources and action to make a difference in the community.

What kinds of arts events has ARTability helped to organize, enhance or promote?

- Artists Without Bounds: A self-guided tour of artwork throughout the Valley created by artists with disabilities
- Theatre and opera events which are audio-described for audience members who are blind or have low vision
- American Sign Language-interpreted performing arts events for audience members who are deaf
- Tactile tours of museum exhibits and theatre events for people who are blind or have low-vision
- Art and dance workshops for adults with physical disabilities
- Radio theatre productions broadcast by Sun Sounds Radio, an information access service for the blind and visually impaired
- Trainings to improve the quality of audio description and American Sign Language-interpretation services for arts events
- An original theatre production based on the autobiography of an adult with cerebral palsy
- "Low Dough" shows - theatre, music, visual arts and crafts events and poetry readings which cost $5 and under to attend
- A photography exhibit which has as its subject breast cancer survivors and a painting exhibit of portraits of young people with disabilities
- An arts festival featuring musical, dance and drama performances and visual artwork by U.S. veterans
- National exhibition and writing competitions for artists with disabilities

The list above includes consortium partners who have provided financial or in-kind support as of 12/20/01. Additional funding provided by the Arizona Community Foundation, the ELA Foundation, BP Amoco p.l.c, the Pacific Disability and Business Technical Center, the Marshall Fund and the National Endowment for the Arts.

Financial Assistance

Awarded by the Commission

(alphabetical by county and city)

This section details each individual grant made to organizations and individuals in FY01. Organized alphabetically by county, and then by municipality within the county, this lists each grantee and the title of the project or grant type, and the sources of funds for the grant.

All grants are awarded through a process in which the organization or individual applies for support; if they meet eligibility requirements, their application is reviewed through the applicable process and criteria. Applicants must document/certify the use of the funds before payment is made, and they report on the project after completion (except Fellowships).

Federal funds are provided through Congressional appropriations to the National Endowment for the Arts; Arizona receives funds through a Partnership Agreement (a portion is calculated by formula, a portion through a competitive review process) and Challenge America (designed to support programs in underserved areas). State funds are appropriated by the Arizona State Legislature. ATF denotes the Arts Trust Fund; these grants are specifically designated for general operating support for arts organizations. Other funds come from interest generated by Arizona ArtShare, the state arts endowment fund; RICO funds through the Maricopa County Attorney's Office to support Anti-Drug A.P.P.L.E. Corps projects; Meet the Composer, Inc.; School to Work; and Tumblewords.

A Arizona has also been selected as one of 13 states to participate in a national research project funded by the Wallace-Reader's Digest Funds to explore new strategies to build public participation in the arts.

Financial Reports FY2001

Funds are received from four sources:

- General Fund, appropriated annually by the State Legislature for Community Service Projects and agency administration
- Arts Fund, a combination of federal funds and other local funds (RICO, fees for service/registration, the fine arts departments of Arizona State University, Northern Arizona University and University of Arizona, the Arizona Humanities Council, Arizona Community Foundation and Arizona Department of Commerce)
- Arts Trust Fund, a portion of the annual filing fee for for-profit corporations, collected by the Arizona Corporation Commission for grants for general operating support of arts organizations
- Arts Endowment, interest earned on state contributions to the state arts endowment fund, and on private contributions to Arizona ArtShare funds at the Arizona Community Foundation and Community Foundation for Southern Arizona

Tribal Museum program provides technical assistance to established and emerging tribal museums and cultural centers.

Former Commission Members

The Commission is governed by fifteen Commission members, appointed by the Governor to serve three-year terms; one is named by the Governor to be Chair. Commission members are selected for demonstrated ability, good judgement and experience in arts-related fields and to ensure geographic and ethnic representation of all areas of the State, and determine Commission policy, award grants and chair selection panels.
